Investment Strategy
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Underlying Fund invests primarily in equity securities. The Underlying Fund employs a bottom-up and valuation-driven research process to identify companies which have differentiated themselves in their respective industry groups in terms of operating and financial performance as well as companies that are undervalued. The Underlying Fund may invest in any industry or sector which in the Managers' opinion offers good growth opportunity and investment value. As defensive measures or in times of extreme volatility in the markets, the Underlying Fund may from time to time hold cash deposits, money market instruments or liquid instruments to safeguard the investment portfolio. The Underlying Fund may also hold cash deposits or liquid instruments for liquidity purposes. The Underlying Fund may use or invest in FDIs for the purposes of hedging existing positions in a portfolio, efficient portfolio management or a combination of both purposes. Units are Excluded Investment Products. Accordingly, the Underlying Fund will not invest in any product or engage in any transaction which may cause the Units not to be regarded as Excluded Investment Products. The Underlying Fund is actively managed with reference to its benchmark (as set out in the Prospectus), which is used for performance comparison purposes. The benchmark is neither used as a constraint on how the Underlying Fund's portfolio is to be constructed nor set as a target for the Underlying Fund's performance to beat. 	Refer to paragraph 5 of the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy of the sub-fund.

Market and Credit Risks
You are exposed to market risks in the Singapore market. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Prices of the securities that the Underlying Fund invests in may be affected by changes in economic conditions, interest rates and the market's perception of the securities, which in turn may affect the value of your investment. You have greater exposure to market risks as this is an equity fund. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Underlying Fund invests in stocks and other equity securities that historically have greater price volatility than bonds and other fixed income securities. This in turn may affect the value or volatility of the Underlying Fund.

You are exposed to risks relating to distributions.

- Dividend/interest income of the Underlying Fund may be adversely affected by (amongst others) investee entities suffering unexpected losses and/or paying lower than expected dividends. In the event that income or net capital gains are insufficient, distributions may be made out of capital, which may amount to a reduction of part of your original investment and may result in reduced future returns to you. Payment of distributions (whether out of income, net capital gains, capital or otherwise) may have the effect of lowering the Underlying Fund's NAV.

You are exposed to derivatives risks.

- The Underlying Fund may use or invest in FDIs, including foreign exchange forward contracts and equity index future contracts. An investment in a FDI may require the deposit of an initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment position. If the required margin is not provided in time, the investment may be liquidated at a loss. Therefore, it is essential that such investments in FDIs are monitored closely. The Managers have controls for investments in FDIs and have in place systems to monitor the FDI positions of the Underlying Fund.
- Other risks to your investment include foreign exchange/currency risk, political risk, small and medium capitalisation companies risk, counterparty risks, exceptional market conditions, actions of institutional investors, broker risk, investment management risk and risk of using rating agencies and other third parties.
